DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-15 are pending in the present application.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions, which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-10,13, 14 and 15, drawn to a method for transferring anti-sense RNA to nerve cells.

Group II, claims 11,13 and 14, drawn to a method for controlling feeding behavior in animals.

Group III, claims 12, 13 and 14, drawn to a method for controlling the blood sugar level of animals.

The inventions listed as Groups I, II and III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Pursuant to 37 C.F.R. §1.475(d), the ISA/US considers that where multiple products and processes are claimed, the main invention shall consist of the first invention of the category first mentioned in the claims and the first recited invention of the other categories related thereto. Accordingly, the main invention, Group I, comprises the product an antisense RNA viral vector of claim 15 and a method for transferring antisense RNA to nerve cells. Moreover, Groups II and III are drawn to very different inventions requiring different search and consideration and comprise different method steps. For example, Group II is drawn to a method for controlling feeding behavior of animals. Such a method involves consideration of what environmental, physical and biological factors that are involved in feeding behavior and hunger. Since behavior in animals is a complex response to environmental and physical stimuli it is a distinct invention separately patentable from either Group I or III.

Further, pursuant to 37 C.F.R. §1.475(d), the ISA/US does not consider any feature which the subsequently recited products and methods share with the main invention as a special technical feature within the meaning of PCT Rule 13.2 and that each of such products and methods accordingly defines a separate invention. Applicant is referred to Grifman et al. (PNAS Vol.95 1998) which shows that the method of Group I is not unique or novel such that a special technical feature connecting Groups I, II and III together^{exists}. Therefore, the present Groups fail to define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions as a whole make over the prior art.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
